

The journey

It was a cold and windy night in a town called Owan the people there had vibe and this place didn't seem or look like a village it was always busy in that town and the people who lived in it loved themselves and always welcomed stranger whole heartedly. It's the year 2005 and a woman named Ruth oviagbede owned a bar in this town Owan and she always had customers and was busy, but there was also a man named Raymond ugbiyobo who always come to her with his friends to drink and have fun.

In that same year, Raymond ugbiyobo departed for the United States. Before is journey to the United States, he was indebted to Ruth oviagbede and she wasn't aware that Raymond had left the country she was wondering why she didn't see Raymond and his friend at her bar anymore. Several months passed and Eugene a friend of Raymond told my Ruth that Raymond wanted to speak to her and she was surprised at first but still talked to him and she said "Ray Ray where you dey nah(in pidgin)" and Raymond replied "I'm no longer in Nigeria, I live in the United States now in Atlanta Georgia" and she said "That's amazing". She was filled with joy for hearing that, but she still went on and asked him hope he had stop drinking and smoking. Raymond also confessed his feeling for Ruth and told her that he wanted to marry her and asked for her number. She was amazed and agreed., Who wouldn't want to marry a man in the United States and Ruth herself was ambitious and has been her dream to travel to the United States. things went on as it was and the news spread around town like a virus, the people of Owan heard the Goodnews and was thrilled to have heard that Raymond was no longer in Nigeria.

2years later Raymond was able to call Ruth and told her that he was Nigeria and asked Ruth if they would be able to see, she said "ok". Dora Ruth's sister told Ruth not to go alone but she refused and was stubborn and did not harken to words of her sister and went alone to Lagos, getting to Lagos she meets Raymond at a hotel and they both spend the night together and she went back to Owan. Few months passed and Ruth started having symptoms of a pregnant woman and her sister was first to notice it and the news got to their older brother and he decided to call Raymond and talk to him of what had happened and Raymond replies was pleasing he had sad that he would marry her then. So, he introduced Ruth to his parent while he was still in Nigeria Ruth met is mum and is other relatives. Some months pass and she gave birth to the child in Sobe at a local hospital her brother Aby drove her their where she went into labor and put to birth successfully and Raymond heard the news and was happy it was a boy Raymond wanted to name him destiny but Ruth decided to name him Miracle and the new born baby who did not know that he had come into the world and will know few happiness but the rest will be pain was giggling, The wedding was still in play but they had to find a suitable date so that Raymond will be around for the wedding they were both engaged at that time, he was also trying to work Ruth and Miracle papers so they will be with him after the marriage. And he had rented an apartment for Ruth and Raymond mum was also staying with Ruth at the apartment, so things went along and was fine. Along the line Ruth eldest sister Dora came to Ondo too and lived with Ruth at that time with her children's things was tuff on Dora husband. it was all well until something spoilt everything, and the marriage was called off and it was heart breaking for Ruth all her dreams where shattered before her eyes, she called Raymond talking to him trying to convince him to change his mind, but Raymond mind was all made up and she did not hear from him again.

2years past and it was the year 2011 And Ruth heard a terrible news which would be more heartbreaking, Raymond ugbiyobo had gotten married. She was tsking care of Miracle at the time she was just pained because in that two years he did not send money for feeding and he was just a baby he started sending in the in 2011, but it was once in three months mostly for his education but not his upkeep. Ruth and her son were still living in Ondo state, she had opened a business there she was a hair stylist and that was how she provided a living for herself. She then decided to move she moved to Abuja and stayed in Kubwa.
